TV-Y (Suitable for all ages.)

The themes and content in programs issued this rating are specifically aimed at a young audience, mainly those ages 2-6. These programs are not expected to frighten or upset young children.

TV-Y7 (Unsuitable for children under 7)

These shows may be suitable for all, but may not be appropriate for children under the age of 7. This rating may include mild language, mild violence, and little or none sexual content.

TV-G (general audience)

Programs issued this rating are deemed appropriate for general audiences, however content in these programs are not always specifically intended towards children.

TV-PG (Unsuitable for young children)

This rating signifies that the program is usually unsuitable for young children without the guidance of a parent. Some game shows are rated TV-PG, for their suggestive dialog or coarse language. Many comedy shows maintain a TV-PG rating in every episode. Also some unamericanized anime sometimes receives this rating. Some feature films originally rated PG-13 or R are edited for network or basic cable and are rated TV-PG. Some shows may skip over from TV-PG to TV-14 between episodes, in some rare instances when switching networks as well. The rating may be accompanied by one or more of the following subratings:

V for moderate violence

S for mild sexual situations

L for mild coarse language

D for suggestive dialogue (mature themes)

TV-14 (Unsuitable for children under 14)

Programs issued the TV-14 rating are usually unsuitable for children under the age of 14 without the guidance of a parent or guardian. This rating may be accompanied by any of the following subratings:

V for intense violence

S for moderate sexual situations

L for coarse language

D for highly suggestive dialogue

Many programs that air after 9:00 pm are rated TV-14 as well as many prime-time dramas and some sitcoms such as Family Guy and American Dad. Many daytime soap operas and wrestling shows have this rating as well. Certain PG-13 or R rated feature films are rated TV-14 when edited for network or basic cable.

Often award ceremonies (such as the Academy Awards), concerts and some specials will be rated TV-14.

TV-MA (intended for mature audiences ages 17 and older; formerly TV-M until 1998)

This program is not intended for and may not be suitable for children under the age of 17 (which is considered the last year of childhood). The program may contain extreme graphic violence, strong profanity, overt explicit sexual dialogue, nudity and/or strong sexual content.

This rating may be accompanied by any of the following subratings:

V for extreme graphic violence

S for explicit sexual situations

L for strong coarse language

The D sub-rating is not used for TV-MA. When TV-MA was still "TV-M" the D sub-rating was actually used.

The implications of these ratings, particularly the TV-MA rating, vary greatly depending on the situation.
